CLIENT-CENTRIC MOBILE DICTATION

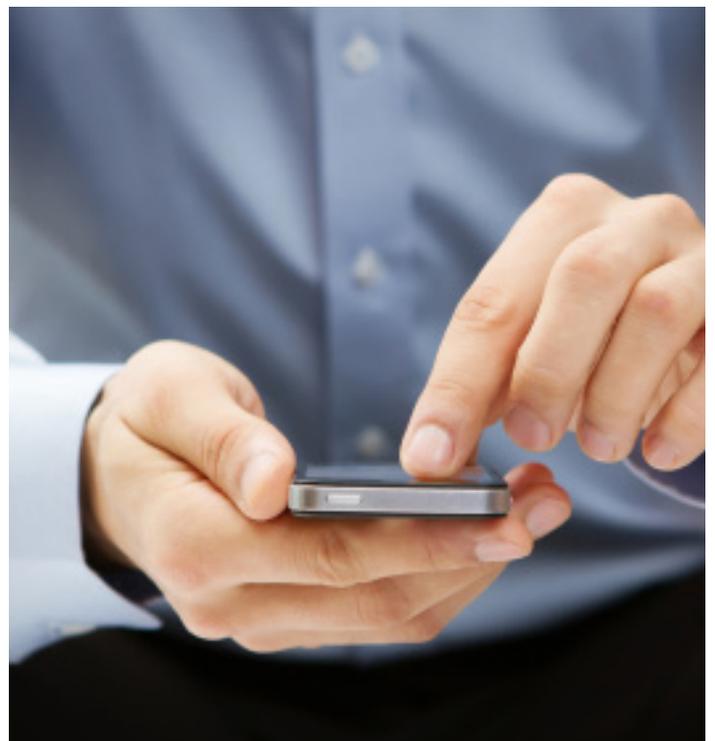

The technological advancements of the SmartPhone and BlackBerry are playing a major role in the workday of today's lawyer. It is essential that a lawyer has access to client information and is able to dictate on the go regardless of his location, whether he is at the courthouse, in transit, working from home or at the firm. Crescendo's DigiDictate Mobile was designed to address this need without the burden of an extra piece of hardware.

UNRESTRICTED DICTATION. DigiDictate Mobile's client-centric approach makes it the most comprehensive dictation application available. Manual input of data is eliminated and remote access to server-based data results in constant updates on the progress of work, anytime - anywhere. By taking advantage of, and expanding on, the latest in touch-screen technology, Crescendo ensures that DigiDictate Mobile is equipped with the easiest navigation system possible. Controlling the dictation is effortless and the application even offers the option of mimicking the slide-switch recording system.

ACCESS CLIENT INFORMATION. As soon as the lawyer starts the application, he is presented with a list of recent activities which contains subject matters that the user has been working on and may need to do additional dictation or research on. This list is obtained from the interface with the firm's Case Management System. A quick search is available to allow the lawyer to refine his query. The option to run a more detailed search is also available. Furthermore, from this screen, Completed, Pending, Most Recent or All dictations are readily available.

KEY FEATURES

- > Easy Access to Data and Workflow
- > Logical Search of Client Information
- > Slide-switch Dictation Technology
- > Suitable for Back-end VR
- > Support for Offline Mode
- > Real-time Updates
- > Uploads Based on User Configuration
- > Large Easy-to-use Buttons

FINGERTIP ACCESS. Once the client is selected, the lawyer has access to the client's file. Reports are broken down by date and description. Once the report is displayed, the lawyer can zoom into a specific section (using gestures or the keyboard) or simply flip through the pages of the file. DigiDictate Mobile allows for certain work types to be accessible only for specific clients. Once the lawyer has selected the client and is ready to begin dictating, a list of work types exclusive to the client, such as Description, Memo, Letter to Client or Opinion is displayed.

FLEXIBLE DICTATION CONTROL. The dictation screen was designed to eliminate difficulty in selecting buttons and controlling the flow of dictation. All dictation functions are available (record, play, rewind, forward, record over, insert, and delete voice portion) from the interface. Furthermore, a progress bar informs the lawyer of how far along he is in the dictation. Likewise, preferred dictation controls (i.e.:the slide switch recording) can be selected. Several options are available once the dictation is complete such as: sign off, discard, suspend or mark as priority. Finally, depending on the lawyer's configuration for e-mail and cell use as well as the availability of WiFi, WiMax or Cellular at the time of completion, the file will be uploaded to their central server.

SAVE TIME AND INCREASE EFFICIENCY. DigiDictate Mobile enables lawyers to take advantage of its time and attendance feature in order to facilitate billing. The lawyer can initiate the time tracker by simply tapping and holding a client's name or by selecting the time feature from the main menu. The time tracker can be used to calculate the amount of time spent on a dictation, reading up on a client's file or a particular document, or even sending an e-mail.

A BETTER BOTTOM LINE. DigiDictate Mobile is undeniably the key to boosting a lawyer's efficiency in regards to dictation. All of its features have been designed to take advantage of new technologies including: new operating systems, better and faster GUIs, new touch screen human interfaces, faster processors and the latest mobile networking infrastructures. Through Crescendo's years of experience in the dictation industry, DigiDictate Mobile is without a doubt the answer to revolutionizing the lawyer's mobile dictation experience, while improving the firm's bottom line and enhancing the lawyer's productivity.
